Subject: OGE Announces Peer-to-Peer Learning Opportunities

OGE's Institute for Ethics in Government (IEG), in conjunction with the Agency Assistance Branch, is pleased to announce we will begin offering monthly peer-to-peer, small-group discussion sessions to allow ethics officials to meet informally to share experiences and expertise and to learn from one another.

Each month, beginning in October, OGE will offer from 2-4 virtual discussion sessions via WebEx for 8 ethics officials per session on a selected topic. IEG instructors and an OGE Desk Officer will facilitate each of the 90-minute-long discussions.

Highlights from each month's sessions will be made available to the ethics community via a recording posted in the Institute for Ethics in Government learning portal.

Registration

At the beginning of each quarter OGE, will send an announcement with links for each month's sessions to the DAEO/ADAEO/POC mailing list.

Each department/agency may register only one person per month. Registration will be on a first come/first serve basis.
